Matthew 28:1-10

1 But after the Sabbath, at the dawning of the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to view the tomb. 2 And suddenly there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled away the stone and sat upon it. 3 His appearance was like lightning, and his dress was as white as snow. 4 And the guards, out of fear of him, were shaken and became like the dead. 5 But the angel, answering, said to the women, "Do not fear; for I know that you seek Jesus who has been crucified. 6 He is not here; for he has been raised, as he said. Come; see the place where he lay. 7 Then quickly go and tell his disciples that he has been raised from the dead, and know this, he goes before you to Galilee. There you will see him. Listen! I have told you." 8 And they went quickly from the tomb with great fear and joy and ran to inform his disciples. 9 And listen, Jesus met them and said, "Greetings!" And they approached him, and held his feet and worshipped him. 10 Then Jesus said, "Fear not. Go, inform my brothers and sisters that they may go to Galilee, and there they will see me."

Reflection

Easter is the central event of the Christian faith, and Jesus the visible presence of God the Creator and Spirit. It is the basis of Christian hope. Hope of course is not a feeling or a notion, it is an action of the will. However, there has to be a reason why we hope. Why Easter? There are a number of interconnected meanings; God has in Jesus completely identified with humanity, even to the point of death; God has experienced grief and loss in the death of a child, and in the resurrection promises new life for those in Christ in this world and the next. It is also reveals the decision of God that in Christ all the violence and alienation and compulsions of the world that would kill the human spirit have been absorbed in Christ, and so create a new spirit within us, a spirit that has passed through death to the life that is possible on the far side of death, which means not only a model or inspiration but God's real gift to humans to live differently. On this Francis Spufford, in 'Unapologetic' wrote:

"He's also the love that makes the world, to whom all times and places are equally present, he isn't just feeling the anger and spite and unbearable self-disgust of this crowd on this one Friday morning in Palestine; he's turning his bruised face toward the whole crowd past and present and to come, and accepting everything we have to throw at him, everything we fear we deserve ourselves. The doors of his heart are wedged open wide, and in rushes the whole pestilential flood, the vile and roiling tide of cruelties and failures and secrets. Let me take that from you, he is saying. Give it to me instead big enough. . . . I am the friend who will never leave you. I am change and hope.

A year 6 child said, "Easter means never give up on hope, because God won't give up on us," which sums up it up well.

For people posturing war around the world – USA, North Korea, Russia - Easter could model a way of peace. In 1963 Pope John XXIII wrote a papal encyclical on peace that in that time influenced US President John F Kennedy to seek peace with his Russian counterpart, and progress was made.

In his Easter Message, Uniting Church President, Stuart McMillan, said "The Easter story is an outrageous love story of a Creator God who wants to reconcile the brokenness of his creation and to make peace."

We are expecting the Governor of NSW His Excellency General The Honourable David Hurley AC DSC (Ret'd), to visit PM this coming Thursday. His visit will include the Meals Plus lunch.

Following the bombing of the Coptic Orthodox church in Cairo, Manas Ghosh, our Leigh Memorial Congregation Minister, sent a letter of support to the head of the Coptic Orthodox Church in Australia. The bombing occurred on Palm Sunday, the celebration of the peaceful arrival of Jesus in Jerusalem. I note Muslim leaders in Egypt took a public stand with the Christians against the violence. The Coptic Orthodox church, known affectingly as COCO's have served meals to people facing homelessness on Tuesday nights in our Macquarie St car park for some years.

This week we farewelled Katelyn Barakat, who had been the Group Director of People and Culture. Katelyn introduced of the new Business Partner model of People and Culture across the whole of PM which will be a lasting legacy that will make a significant contribution to creating a One PM culture, and will involve People and Culture in the total lifecycle of all staff. Katelyn also conducted the first whole of PM staff engagement survey which will assist in developing our One PM culture. I thank Katelyn for designing the new model and implementing it. Recruiting has commenced for a new Group Director of People and Culture.

Following a recruitment process we are about to appoint Dr Ulysses Chioatto as the new Group Director of Compliance. Ulysses is a lawyer. This marks a new era for PM. The Group Directory of Compliance will ensure that all our processes, contracts, guidelines are kept, and that we meet all our legislative obligations, and continue to be sustainable. The role is like an internal auditor who checks that in all things we are doing the right thing. Ulysses will start in a few weeks.

Blessings this Easter, Keith Hamilton

COMMUNITY VISITORS SCHEME
Friends for Older People
An Australian Government Initiative

Community Visitors Scheme

Do you want to volunteer and make a difference in someone's life? It all starts with a friendly smile and someone to talk to. You can share your time with an elderly person who's feeling lonely or isolated that would benefit from a friendly visitor.

This is a government funded programme run through Parramatta Mission aiming to enrich the quality of life of care recipients of aged care homes who are socially isolated and would benefit from interacting with a visitor.

As a volunteer you would make a commitment to visit a resident of an aged care facility or the recipient of a Home Care Package in their own homes, at least once a fortnight. Visits can include activities like playing cards, chatting or going for a walk.
