“Reminder Christmas day lunch is happening again this year. You may remember last year’s event was fantastic and more than 500 people attended our lunch. This year we are expecting up to 1000 guests from across our community. In order to ensure a fun and safe environment we will once again need to utilise the space in the car park. We encourage you to seek street parking which is free on Christmas day. Thank you for your cooperation in helping this day be a huge success.”

HEALTHY NOVEMBER

In the lead up to the Christmas season we want to try and assist in us all being healthier. The scriptures speak of the body being a temple so being healthier is something for us all to aim for. Likewise, as we age (and we all do) it is important to try and keep active, both in mind and body. So on Wednesdays during November we are trialling some fun Body groove exercise from 12-12.30. It is moving and walking (no running involved at all) and you can move in whatever way you are able. Please see Rev Christine for more details.

Preparing for An Advent Study

The church's new year begins on the first Sunday in Advent. That is not far off now. You may already have heard the occasional Christmas carol being played in the mall! In this season of the year we change the gospel in whose company we will travel for the next 12 months. For 2019/2020 it is the gospel of Matthew.

- Some of us have explored the distinctive themes of Matthew in the past.
- This Advent we will look at 3 key texts and consider what they say and how they inform our spiritual life.

Clive will lead three studies:

Choir vestry, Leigh Memorial, Saturday mornings from 10am to 12 noon.

1: Emmanuel, God with us.

2. The Sermon on the Mount.

3. Whatever you did for one of these ...

Isaiah 65:17-25

- ¹⁷ For I am about to create new heavens
and a new earth;
the former things shall not be remembered
or come to mind.
- ¹⁸ But be glad and rejoice for ever
in what I am creating;
for I am about to create Jerusalem as a joy,
and its people as a delight.
- ¹⁹ I will rejoice in Jerusalem,
and delight in my people;
no more shall the sound of weeping be heard in it,
or the cry of distress.
- ²⁰ No more shall there be in it
an infant that lives but a few days,
or an old person who does not live out a lifetime;
for one who dies at a hundred years will be considered a youth,
and one who falls short of a hundred will be considered accursed.
- ²¹ They shall build houses and inhabit them;
they shall plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
- ²² They shall not build and another inhabit;
they shall not plant and another eat;
for like the days of a tree shall the days of my people be,
and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands.
- ²³ They shall not labour in vain,
or bear children for calamity;
for they shall be offspring blessed by the Lord—
and their descendants as well.
- ²⁴ Before they call I will answer,
while they are yet speaking I will hear.
- ²⁵ The wolf and the lamb shall feed together,
the lion shall eat straw like the ox;
but the serpent—its food shall be dust!
They shall not hurt or destroy
on all my holy mountain,
says the Lord.

Reflection

Isaiah 65 is part of the closing remarks of third Isaiah and of the book of that name. The people have returned from Exile to devastation. The familiar has been destroyed, the place of their memories meets the vista of their new reality, and the two are not the same. For those who were born and have grown up in Babylon, this reality does not match the stories of their parents. Where is hope in the midst of destruction? A timely question for people returning to bush fire ravaged areas, or people grappling with the cataclysmic destruction of a typhoon or a family dealing with the fracture of a broken relationship or the terminal illness of a loved one, or a person dealing with interpersonal conflict in a dysfunctional work place.

Place and space are important. So are relationships. The scriptures do not deny that importance. What they do speak of is what can be the bedrock of life. The bedrock is the place and space and relationships on which we build our life and relationship with all else. It does not deny all else, nor is it a 'let's pretend everything is ok' when things are clearly not. It is not about effervescence. There are things in life that are sad, and we will carry sadness about many things with us, within us, and yet sadness need not dominate our whole of life, though it will if our bedrock is misplaced. Anger at injustice, mixed with hope, will not lead people to avoid issues and to give up, or to fight fruitlessly against such things in oppositional defiance; anger and hope will drive people to work for change, even change that might not happen in our lifetime. Abraham and Sarah did not live to see the promise fulfilled. Many who worked to end slavery did not live to see that happen, but they strove with anger at the injustice and with bedrock hope of a new day towards the goal.

Constantly bubbling up through the scriptures, even in the most dreadful of situations, is the hope of God. This is not magic. People still suffer, and all people do die. When families gather after the death of a loved one, there will often be sadness and tears and also joy and laughter as stories are told. We carry that sadness and that joy onward with us. Isaiah and the scriptures paint a picture of hope of what might be that takes trauma and sadness and mixes it with laughter and joy into a life well lived.

Cameron Westman and Christine Bayliss Kelly speaking to the latest Engagement Day group at 175. The bus tour visits 175, Wesley Apartments, Hope Hostel, HASI Plus, AWCE, LikeMind, Meals Plus and the Fellowship Centre, WSLARS and Epworth House, Leigh Memorial Church, the Youth Hub and Lifeline. They take a full day, and include coffee at 175, morning tea at HASI Plus, lunch at Meals Plus. The tour takes 12 people, plus driver (me) and organiser from People and Culture.

Last Sunday Julie and I visited Rooty Hill Uniting Church, the congregation of which I was the Minister 1999-2008. Here Edward Martin, the congregation chairperson presented on behalf of the congregation a donation of $1,000 for Meals Plus. A donation was also made of quilts for our women's services. There are many Uniting Church congregations, who partner with Parramatta Mission.

A selection of what the Rooty Hill congregation have at morning tea, which for many is breakfast. It included waffles.

Spare a thought and a prayer for our staff and consumers on the Mid-North Coast. Some of our staff have been hospitalised, affected by the smoke and breathing difficulties. The fires were very close to the home of one member of staff. Consumers have been supported through phone contact. I plan to visit our staff this coming week.

Blessings, Keith Hamilton

Looking for anyone who is able to take up the responsibility for the Fijian weekly insert to Our News newsletter, update to our Facebook page and website. If you're also keen or called to help with youth and leadership transition, please contact Ofa.

Reminder : FINAL CALL to those keen to attend FNC, please let Ofa know by the end of today, Sunday 17 November. We need to confirm numbers to organise our trip.

Lord God, we pray for the victims of the bushfires, for those who have lost their homes, for those who have lost their lives. We pray for the men and women who bravely and tirelessly worked on containing the fires. We pray for the emergency chaplains who are providing pastoral care to those in need. We pray for the kindness and giving hearts of our communities. We pray for our government, that they make right decisions to better support those affected by these fires. Lord, we lift these prayers up to you, in the name of your Son, Jesus Christ.
Amen.
