God of life and death, our prayers today are where our hearts and minds have been during these last days and where they have been drawn so early in this season; with those communities and individuals whose lives have been damaged in differing ways by the bushfires.

Matthew 2:1-12

1 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem in Judea in the days of Herod the King, unexpectedly, wise men trained in astrology and dream interpretation, arrived in Jerusalem from the East. 2 They enquired, "Where is the one who has born king of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east and we came to worship him." 3 When King Herod heard this, he, and all Jerusalem with him were troubled, 4 and calling all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he inquired from them where the Christ was born. 5 And they said to him,

In Bethlehem in Judea, for it has been written by the prophet,

6 'And you Bethlehem, Lord of Judea, are by no means least among the Governors in Judea. For out of you will come forth a governor who will shepherd my people Israel.

7 Then Herod secretly, called the wise men and found out from them the time the star first became visible 8 and sent them to Bethlehem, saying,

Go and make careful inquires concerning the child and when you find him report to me so that I too might come to worship him.

9 When they had listened to him they went and, yet again, the star which they had seen in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over where the child was. 10 When they saw the star they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy 11 and they went into the house and saw the child with Mary his mother and they fell and worshipped him, and opening their treasures they offered him gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh. 12 And having been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed by another way to their country.

Reflections

While some have moved on through the Boxing Day sales to the New Year, sales, with hot cross buns not far away, Christmas has twelve days and ends with Epiphany, 6 January. It is ok to keep the tree up and the lights lit at least until then! Epiphany celebration began with the church in the East celebrating the epiphany or theophany or the manifestation or the revelation of God to the world in Jesus Christ. It is possible that 6 January was chosen because it was the date of the winter solstice in the East (according to the calendar in use at that time), also because it was the pagan festival of the birth of a god. Traditionally, the story of the visit by the magi, today's Gospel, is used. That story is associated with the Bible reading from Isaiah 60:1-6:

1. Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you. 2 For darkness shall cover the earth, and thick darkness the peoples; but the Lord will arise upon you, and his glory will appear over you. 3 Nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your dawn. 4 Lift up your eyes and look around; they all gather together, they come to you; your sons shall come from far away, and your daughters shall be carried on their nurses' arms. 5 Then you shall see and be radiant; your heart shall thrill and rejoice, because the abundance of the sea shall be brought to you, the wealth of the nations shall come to you. 6 A multitude of camels shall cover you, the young camels of Midian and Ephah; all those from Sheba shall come. They shall bring gold and frankincense, and shall proclaim the praise of the Lord. (NRSV Translation)

The reference to light overcoming darkness connects with the theme of epiphany as an other-worldly event entering this world. Illumination is brought to bear on the big questions of life, such as who am I, why am I here, where am I going? The arrival of the Magi and the gifts they bear point to Matthew's theme that Jesus is God with us, and in trusting in Jesus we have revealed to us the answers to these core human questions.

Matthew endeavours to show that there is something very different about this child. Even the stars point to the unusualness of this child. Gifts of gold were brought to a king, gifts of incense for God and gifts of myrrh – a perfume – for one who is to die.

There are a number of points that Matthew would draw to our attention. There is a pointer to Easter some way off.

Further, in God's purposes being worked out through the unlikely agents of the magi, of Joseph and Mary, God can do the impossible. It is not a question of goodness. It is a question of willingness. God is present in our world doing astonishing things in unexpected places using ordinary people to achieve his purposes.

Finally, one of the signs of the Spirit in ancient times as well as in our time is the guidance of the Spirit of God through dreams. These can be dreams that predict what might happen, or dreams that encourage, or dreams that warn. Clearly the characters in the story were open to God and led by God's Spirit. They responded in faithful action.

God being made present is celebrated by the church on 6 January, the Epiphany of the Lord. We join the wise in discerning God's presence and guidance in our lives and we join the wise in worship of Jesus, God's Son.

THE BUSHFIRES

'Apocalyptic' is a term not used lightly yet has been used a lot in recent days. It would be hard to imagine anyone in Australia unaware of the catastrophic conditions wrought by drought, fire and smoke. Apparently, the fires are creating their own weather patterns. Even the air is on fire. Towns and cities such as Canberra, far from fire are full of smoke for days on end. 40 degree plus days are now a regular occurrence. It is not too extravagant to say Australia is on fire. Lives lost. People traumatised. Property destroyed. Our first action is empathy, and support. There is a place, not for magical thinking, but for prayerful action. Action to stand with all who are hurting. A helping hand, a listening ear, a shoulder to lean on. There is a further prayerful action we ought to take. People of faith believe that the earth and all that is therein is God's. As such people of faith believe that looking after the world is a faithful response. Yet, not just people of faith. Nor is it a 'Green' issue, it is our responsibility as humans living in the world. If we live in someone's house, we have a responsibility at the least not to trash it, and even to look after it. That is what good tenants do. So, we might pray that the God who can do the impossible might work an epiphany in the hearts and minds of people to act on the climate emergency. It requires Governments of all levels to act and to lead; it also involves you and me, all of us, to do our part in care of the environment, reduce carbon emissions, reduce land fill, look after waterways. It is no longer a green issue to look after trees and animals, the environment. All of us must learn to 'tread the earth lightly.' Pray that we do just that.

Blessings Keith Hamilton
