Matthew 5:1-12

5 Seeing the crowds, Jesus went up into the mountain and when he sat down his disciples came to him. 2 And he opened his mouth and he began teaching them saying, 3 “Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted. 5 Blessed are the gentle, for they shall inherit the land. 6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied. 7 Blessed are the merciful, for to them shall mercy be shown. 8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. 9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called children of God. 10 Blessed are those who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 Blessed are you when you are reviled and persecuted and all kinds of evil is spoken against you falsely because of me. 12 Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven; for so people persecuted the prophets before you.”

(Translation by Keith Hamilton)

Reflections

The Sermon on the Mount with its enthralling title has caught our attention and entered popular culture. At 109 verses, it is a long and at times controversial sermon. The preacher says, “love your enemies”. “Do good to those who hate you.” “If someone hits you on the right check, let him or her hit you on the left.” “Do not worry about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink.” “Do to others as you would have them do to you.”

The Sermon on the Mount call people out of individualism into community. In caring for the least we are in the place where Jesus is. Jesus is with the poor in spirit, with those who mourn, with those who seek with all their being to do the right thing by God, with those who show mercy, with those who work for peace.

Alex de Tocqueville, wrote in 1835,

Individualism . . . disposes each member of the community to sever himself from the mass of his fellows and to draw apart with his family and his friends, so that he has thus formed a little circle of his own, he willingly leaves society at large to itself . . . individualism, at first only saps the virtues of public life; but, in the long run, it attacks and destroys all others, and is at length absorbed in downright selfishness.

We believe in God who was involved in the world from creation, who came to us in Jesus to tell and show how we ought to be involved, and who in the Spirit inspires and encourages and energises people of faith to continue being involved. In this involvement, in giving of ourselves, is life in God.

I want to share two highlights of a recent holiday to the Pacific. Firstly, thanks to Samantha and Tomasi Vuluwalu who arranged for us to meet with and be given a tour of Suva by Tomasi's uncle, Rev Saki Vakacautodra and his wife Tolo. We visited the Davuilevi Theological College. There hanging on the wall was a familiar portrait. Rev John Watsford was the first Australian born Methodist minister. He grew up and came to faith in our first church, was called by God to become a minister and preached in our second church, before setting sail for Fiji in 1844 as a missionary. There he was involved in some translation work of the Bible from English to Fijian. He later returned to Australia and served in South Australia. In 1896 he preached in our current church, thus he preached in all three of our churches at 119 Macquarie St, Parramatta. His bust stands proudly in the corner of our church.

The second story involves Rev Vini Rokomasi Ravetali, a Uniting Church Minister who is chaplain at MLC. Vini was a former member of Parramatta Mission, until her ordination some years ago. Our ship was diverted from Savusavu to Latoka. I contacted Vini, who has a house in Nadi, on the Saturday enquiring which Methodist Church we should attend on the Sunday. Vini made enquires and was informed we should go to Namaka. We did, and they were expecting us. We met Rev Tomasi Davnakawakama, know as Tom. That day Sireli Vuniwaqa was being commissioned as a Vakatawa (pastor). We were privileged to attend, and for me to be involved in the service. Later there was an official cava ceremony welcoming us to Fiji, and a lunch that was to celebrate the commissioning of Sireli. I brought greetings from Parramatta Mission to the congregations, and they send greetings to all at Parramatta Mission from Namaka Methodist Church in Fiji.

Many highlights of this experience. One: Tom has 4-5 acre farm on which he grows food for his family. He also takes food to families who are poor, and going without. This has opened up many pastoral conversations. The Mosque is next door to the church, and Tom's food ministry has assisted in developing relationships with many people in the Mosque and thus built interfaith relationships.
