Parramatta Community Uniting Church

Parramatta Community Uniting Church acknowledges that we worship, work, witness and serve on the land of traditional owners, the Burramattagal clan of the Darug people. We pay respect to the original custodians of the land, and acknowledge elders past and present, and emerging leaders.

Weekly Meditations

Pentecost 26A, 2023

Matthew 25: 31-46

*The reign of Christ:
The least of these*
Suzanne Guthrie

Meditation One
No Longer Myself

All through those weary first days in jail when I was in solitary confinement, the only thoughts that brought comfort to my soul were those lines in the Psalms that expressed the terror and misery of being suddenly stricken and abandoned. Solitude and hunger and weariness of spirit — these sharpened my perceptions so that I suffered not only my own sorrow but the sorrows of those about me. I was no longer myself. I was a human being. I was no longer a young girl, part of a radical movement seeking justice for those oppressed, I was the oppressed. I was that drug addict, screaming and tossing in her cell, beating her head against the wall. I was that shoplifter who for rebellion was sentenced to solitary. I was that woman who had killed her children, who had murdered her lover.

The blackness of hell was all about me. The sorrows of the world encompassed me. I was like one gone down into the pit. Hope had forsaken me. I was that mother whose child had been raped and slain. I was the mother who had borne the monster who had done it. I was even that monster, feeling in my own heart every abomination.

Dorothy Day

*From an autobiography, written as a letter to her brother (with echoes of Psalm 130)
Dorothy Day (1897–1980) was an American journalist and a radical social activist who became a Catholic without abandoning her radical social justice values and activism. She created the Catholic Worker Movement, a pacifist movement that combines direct aid for the poor and homeless with nonviolent direct action on their behalf. She practiced civil disobedience, which led to arrests and imprisonment.*

Meditation Two

What Glorious Hope

"What glorious hope!" [François] Mauriac writes. "There are all those who will discover that their neighbor is Jesus himself, although they belong to the mass of those who do not know Christ or who have forgotten Him. And nevertheless they will find themselves well loved. It is impossible for any one of those who has real charity in their heart not to serve Christ. Even some of those who think they hate Him, have consecrated their lives to Him; for Jesus is disguised and masked in the midst of people, hidden among the poor, among the sick, among prisoners, among strangers. Many who serve Him officially have never known who He was, and many who do not even know His name, will hear on the last day the words that open to them the gates of joy. 'O, Those children were I, and I those workers. I wept on the hospital bed. I was that murderer in his cell whom you consoled.'"

Francois Mauriac 1885-1970

Quoted from the above letter by Dorothy Day

Meditation Three

Do not be daunted by the enormity of the world's grief. Do justly, now. Love mercy, now. Walk humbly, now. You are not obligated to complete the work, but neither are you free to abandon it.

The Talmud

Suzanne's Meditation

Sheep and Goats

Recently, when the story of the Wise and Foolish Virgins came up in the lectionary, a friend said, "I don't subscribe to that parable." I laughed, because the whole spate of recent readings involving weeping, gnashing of teeth, binding hands and feet and tossing poor clueless folk into the outer darkness doesn't at all sound like Jesus. Jesus sought the company of sinners, tax collectors and other collaborators, exploiters, cheaters, the unclean and marginalized, prostitutes, women and children in general, lepers, and losers of all kinds. Oh, and he also had at least a few friends among the elite. Would Jesus suddenly turn face at the moment of death?

Nevertheless, I like these doom parables because, like a dream, see myself in all the characters. I'm both a wise and a foolish virgin, I'm the fellow with the five talents, the two talents, and the one burying the single talent. I'm the crazy, irrational king that lost his mind over the guest without the wedding garment. I'm always throwing myself out into the outer darkness. I need every facet of every story to understand my place in the roiling complexity of humanity.

A good story moves the soul to action. The shock of the pit and gnashing of teeth helps dislodge me from my usual mediocre moral groove. But I also know that the Good Shepherd leaves the other ninety-nine sheep to gather up the one little lost lamb - or goat - balancing on a crag at the edge of darkness. And, I can testify, will do so more than once.

CHANGES TO OUR NEWSLETTER

As people will no doubt be aware, at our gathering on Saturday 18 November a decision was made for our new entity to be known as Parramatta Community Uniting Church (PCUC).

As another step towards bring us together as one entity, from the first Sunday in December we will be issuing just one Newsletter to cover all our worship communities.

Commencing on the first Sunday in December the plan is to issue one detailed newsletter containing, but not limited to, stories from worship communities, a message from the ministry team, a calendar for the month of December, pastoral messages & prayer points.

The newsletters issued for the other weeks in December will be much shorter and focus on what is happening across PCUC in the coming week and also include pastoral messages & prayer points.

The intention is for the Weekly Reflection to be distributed as a separate document.

Please note that a paper version will continue to be made available for those who currently receive this format; additional copies will be available at each worship site.

From next week the following process for preparing & issuing our newsletter will be:

- * Contact person for newsletter items will be Rose Shalala (rose.shalala@parramattamission.org.au or mobile 0419 421 528)
- * Cut off time for items is close of business Wednesday to enable completion and distribution by no later than Friday morning)

We understand this is a change and ask that people bear with us as we move forward. Nothing is set in concrete and we will make modifications as needed.

Should anyone have any questions or feedback, please do not hesitate to contact Liz de Reland (leighmemorialuniting@gmail.com) or Rob Eagleson (reagleso@bigpond.net.au).

NB: we are currently establishing a new congregation master list and will be using this for our distribution addresses, so should you not receive your newsletter for the first Sunday in December, please let us know so that we can correct our records.

COVID ADVISORY

As we are in the midst of an 8th COVID wave in Western Sydney – with serious implications for vulnerable people in our worshipping communities and those at increased risk of ‘long COVID’ – PCUC members and visitors are reminded that mask wearing, social distancing, hand-washing/sanitising and providing good ventilation are among the many helpful “preventative” measures at our disposal. During the “wave” members and visitors with cold/flu symptoms are requested to join us on Zoom or watch the PCUC online service instead of attending worship and other congregation gatherings in-person.

The next Working Bee at the garden at Centenary Church will be on the 9th December at 7.00am with Breakfast/Morning Tea served at 8.30am and a 10.00am finish.

The early start is to get some work done before it gets too hot.

Advent Studies by Rev Dr Chris Walker

Chris Walker has written three Advent studies over the past three years covering each of the readings in the three year lectionary - years B, C and A.

This coming Advent goes back to the readings of three years ago. The studies are as follows.

- * The Coming of Jesus Christ: past, present and future -4 studies on hope (year B)
- * Jesus Christ The Same Yesterday, Today and Forever Finding hope and strength in trying times (Year C)
- * Signs of the New Age - already and not yet in Jesus Living in the present, looking to the future (Year A)

Each study not only covers the biblical readings but also has a quote, a story and reference to a hymn/song and prayers. There are questions for consideration or discussion.

The studies can be readily found on the MediaCom Education website: www.mediacomeducation.org.au

WELCOME TO WORSHIP

We look forward to seeing everyone at Leigh Memorial this Sunday, 26 November @ 9.30am with Rev Vladimir (Onsite + Zoom). All welcome.

COVID UPDATE

Members are reminded that we are currently in a new COVID “wave” – so social distancing, ensuring good ventilation and mask wearing at church are among a number of “preventative” options that we can use to protect vulnerable people. Please stay at home if you’re unwell & join us on Zoom instead. Disposable masks and sanitiser are available in the Leigh Memorial vestibule as needed.

PCUC ADVENT & CHRISTMAS DATES 2023

A flyer outlining our various Advent events in December is available in this week’s Newsletter. Please come along and share in all these wonderful gatherings. The big event at our Parramatta site will be the Parramatta Mission Community Christmas Lunch on Friday 22 December. All welcome!

CAR PARK CLOSED

A reminder that between 27 November and 2 December, the car park at Leigh Memorial/ Parramatta Mission will be undergoing major re-surfacing work, so parking will be unavailable.

SCHOOL VISITS PROGRAM

During the past week and continuing next week, over 200 high school students from Barker College and The King’s School will visit Leigh Memorial Church and Meals Plus. The school groups bring donations with them, learn about the history of the site, and hear about the work of Meals Plus while preparing food and clothing hampers to assist those in need. Further visits are planned in 2024, with a big thanks to Chao from PM who coordinates the program. Thanks also to Paul, Liz & Jenny Fuda.

NEWSLETTER CHANGE

Until now, there has been a Parramatta-Westmead newsletter and a Northmead -Centenary newsletter. However as part of us being one congregation, we’ll now have one combined PCUC newsletter – starting 3 December. A longer version with notices & news from each community will be issued on the first weekend of each month, but on the remaining weeks, a simple list of key events/dates and important updates will be distributed. Please see the notice in this week’s newsletter for further details.

INVITATION: OPEN CHURCH COMMUNION SERVICE

Donated items will be used at the Parramatta Mission Christmas Lunch on 22nd December – or served at Meals Plus/ distributed in hampers over the festive season. Christmas decorations and wrapping paper etc are also welcome. Enquiries: Liz & Callum.

A report on this year's experiences and insights will be compiled, and more work in this vital area of our life & witness as a congregation will continue in 2024. Special thanks to the ministry team & everyone from the PCUC who assisted in planning and hosting the four gatherings.

Sharing The Hospitality of Jesus Christ

Sunday 26th November 2023- 09.30am

Stuart Elliott will lead worship at Westmead this Sunday – a very warm welcome Stuart, we look forward to seeing you.

Last Sunday Pastor Fil reflected on the passage of Matthew 25:14-30. A copy of this interesting reflection can be found in last week's Newsletter from Debie Thomas who titles it "The Good kind of Worthless". Try to not lose hope if you are in uncomfortable situations because you stood for what is right - you may be considered "worthless" by others or your own self, due to personal circumstances, but remember to daily uphold faith and Christ will lead you.

*For all PCUC Christmas dates see the full Newsletter***

Westmead

- For those that are unwell or undergoing medical treatment, and their families – Lord we lift these up in Your name and ask for healing- May You surround their families with strength and grace as they go through this journey.
- For the wars that escalate and the lives that are destroyed and their loved ones – We think especially of the children of Gaza and of the other wars that they may find hope amongst terror. May their circumstances change for the better and may peace arrive in the war zones.
- For doctors and nurses and especially those medical teams that are pushed with lack of resources and appropriate conditions due to war – we pray a special prayer that their expertise may benefit those that are suffering. May You bless the hands that work to heal and recover.
- For those that are burdened by grief, and by mental health challenges – We pray that they may have the courage to carry on and that they may be able to apply themselves with the security of Your love and companionship in the emptiness of their lives.
- For teachers, and those that work to establish law and order – we pray for Your guidance and for Your love to permeate through when things become challenging.
- For the economy and our country – We pray that You guide our government that there be more awareness of homelessness, and that those facing economic hardship find moral support and love of others surrounding them in difficult times.

Fijian
